

QUICK TAKE

Markets do remain overvalued across the investment part of the economy and we may see normalisation of valuations in some of these segments.

We remain bullish on equities from a medium to long term perspective.

Investors are suggested to have their asset allocation plan based on one's risk appetite and future goals in life.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

MARKETS

After the initial bout of volatility on the day of electoral outcome, India equities rose notably over the month buoyed by encouraging economic data, robust flows and optimism around the new government's upcoming budget. The BSE Sensex and the NIFTY 50 ended 7% and 6.6% up respectively. Amongst other indices, both the mid-caps and small caps gained during the month. The NIFTY Midcap 100 ended the month higher 7.8% while NIFTY Small Cap 100 ended 9.7% up. The number of stocks trading above their respective 200-day moving averages was higher at 88% in June vs. 73% in May. The advance-decline line was up 13% in June while volatility was down.

the investment part of the economy and we may see normalisation of valuations in some of these segments. Having said that, India remains one of the fastest growing economies globally. Macros remain strong with an easing inflation cycle, progress of monsoons and robust economic growth. The upcoming Union Budget in July, the earnings season and policy announcements would set the tone for equities in the near term.

CORPORATE

Meanwhile, the equity market capitalisation crossed US$5 tn with the last one trillion being added in a span of six months. Key frontline indices touched lifetime highs, with the Sensex crossing 79,000 and the NIFTY 50 crossing 24,000. Overall, in the H1CY24, the BSE Sensex advanced 9.4% while the Nifty gained 10.5%. The Nifty Midcap 100 ended 20.7% higher and the Nifty Smallcap 100 ended 21% higher.

We expect consumption to pick up going forward and there are little signs of uptick in the rural demand segment. A good monsoon, lower inflation and the festive season could further boost rural demand. In addition, a pickup in capex could likely lead to more job creation and thereby a boost in spending power aiding further consumption growth. The premiumisation theme continues and the beneficiaries are the various segments within consumer discretionary. Automobiles and real estate seen an upswing as did high end retail. The housing sector is seeing increasing absorption pan India and with the government's focus on affordable housing, building materials and ancillaries across the spectrum stand to gain. We retain our overweight stance in these sectors.

GLOBAL

After being net sellers for two consecutive months, Foreign Portfolio Investors (FPIs) bought to the US$3.2 bn while domestic institutional investors remained strong with inflows of US$3.4 bn. For 2024, FPI net buying stood at US$0.4bn, while domestic institutions were net buyers at US$28bn. Pertinent to mention here, that India officially joined the JP Morgan Global Bond Indices on June 28 and this move will lead to phased inflows of US$25-30 bn.

With the turnaround in capex and a revival in government spending, the entire curve of the capex cycle stands to benefit in light of multiple enablers such as deleveraged corporate balance sheets, healthy profitability, rising domestic demand, and increasing capacity utilization. Accordingly, we are overweight on the infrastructure, manufacturing, utilities and transport. We maintain a bias to holdings in sectors that can benefit from government policies such as energy, defense, power. The banking sector could gain from decadal low NPAs, better capital ratios and a surge in credit demand. In the pharmaceutical industry, we anticipate the favorable pricing conditions to persist and intensify. Conversely, we have an underweight in the export-oriented segment, attributing this to the decline in global economic growth.

AXIS VALUE FUND

- The fund offers a differentiated strategy that improves on traditional value investing to avoid its pitfalls. We believe that the singular focus on valuations that typical value strategies adopt is misguided since valuation has to be seen in context with the health and future potential of the business. Many low valuation businesses may be in essence value traps – i.e. destined to remain cheap forever given their poor fundamentals.
- As a result, we believe that the portfolio needs to use a more evolved process. The approach that fund intends to use is to look for companies that combine strong fundamentals with reasonable valuations which we believe have the potential to generate long term wealth generation as the prospects of these businesses get unlocked or as the economy/ sector goes through its growth phase. Fund also do stocks selection based on the turnaround in ROE/cash flows or earnings, management turnaround and sector dynamics shifts.
- From a medium to long term prospective, the fund focuses on creating wealth through multiples re-rating and playing cycles.

AXIS BUSINESS CYCLES FUND

- The business cycle is a critical determinant of equity sector performance over the intermediate term and the relative performance of equity market sectors typically tends to rotate as the overall economy shifts from one stage of the business cycle to the next, with different sectors assuming performance leadership in different economic phases. It must be noted however, that individual sectors do not follow the same performance pattern every period. Also, business cycle transitions are gradual and may have many overlapping periods.
- The Axis Business Cycles Fund aims to identify economic trends and invest in the sectors and stocks that are likely to outperform at a given stage of the business cycle. The fund manager will consider various macroeconomic parameters (like GDP Growth, exports, interest rates, inflation etc.), high frequency indicators (like private consumption indicators, PMI, etc.), business and consumer sentiment indicators (corporate earnings, business confidence index, forward-looking estimates, etc.) to decide on the state of the business cycle.
